URGENT DRAFT BE EXTENDED FOUR YEARS

Merry Dent, Howard Olila To Head Drive

Merry Dent and Howard Olila, who headed the campaign last year, will head the 1955 Easter Seal campaign in Calloway County. It was announced today, March 10, to April 10, will stress the Easter Seal campaign, for accident prevention as well as fund-raising to benefit children handicapped by all types of crippling diseases.

Talton K. Stone, state campaign chairman for the sponsoring Kentucky Society for Crippled Children, said the accident prevention campaign developed because accidents each year kill and cripple more children than do infectious diseases.

Kentucky vital statistics for 1953 showed that home, highway, farm and other accidents took the lives of 295 children under 15 years old. Polio, influenza, rheumatic fever, tuberculosis, diphtheria, whooping cough and measles claimed 151 lives that year.

Youngsters between one and four are particularly liable to fatal accidents, Stone said. According to statistics, more than one-fifth of the deaths among one-year-olds and nearly one-third of the deaths among four-year-olds.

"One of the most pathetic sides of this situation is that two-fifths of these accidents happen at home," Stone said, "and almost all of them can be prevented."

Funds raised by the Easter Seal campaign are used to pay for medical care and treatment for all types of crippled children, including accident victims, through the Kentucky Crippled Children's Commission, he said.

Other Kentucky Society for Crippled Children projects include a state-wide speech and hearing program through the state Department of Education; operation of Cardinal Hill Nursery School at Lexington; and Opportunity School at Covington, and Cardinal Hill Hospital, Lexington.

The Kentucky Society also aids financially the University of Kentucky hearing center, the Louisville Rehabilitation Center, Inc., Louisville, buys artificial limbs, braces, wheel chairs, and hearing aids, pays teacher salaries in three hospitals and loans special equipment to school districts.

LEAVELAND CONTINUES TO BE BATTERED
By WILLIAM MILLER
United Press Staff Correspondent
TAIPEI, Formosa — Red Chinese warships, planes and artillery battered Nationalist-held Yushan and Tachen islands today, raising fears the Communists may be preparing another invasion attempt.

Nationalist Chinese sources said the most serious threat is an attack on Yushan, 30 miles north of Tachen, by a force of four Red warships, 15 jets and by artillery bombardment from the recently captured Wukangshan Island.

Tachen itself was attacked by eight Red Mi-15 jets and by artillery bombardment from the recently captured Wukangshan Island.

Hyder said he would like to play Kentucky four more times.

In other Kentucky college games last night, Transylvania went three overtimes to beat Rio Grande, 96-94, and Morehead edged Middle Tennessee 97-96.

Tonight's schedule will have Dayton, ranked 17th nationally, at Western Kentucky; Berea at Union; and Houston at Murray State.

Hunt On For Lost 14 Tons Of Gold

COSTA JOSE, Costa Rica, Jan. 31 (AP) — A 14-ton man California treasure hunting expedition made final preparations today to sail for Cocos Island in search for the fabulous "loot of Lima," said to include 14 tons of gold bars.

Preparations include signing a contract with President Jose Figueres' government whereby the Californians bind themselves to share with the government any treasure they find on a 50-50 basis.

Expedition leader Charles Williams, of Manhattan Beach, Calif., said he expects to sail Wednesday from Puntarenas aboard the 111-foot submarine Isola de Capri for Cocos Island.

Williams believes the 60-million dollar treasure in gold, jewels, sacred vases and precious gems, was left in deserted Cocos Island in 1821 by the mutinous crew of a ship taking it to Spain.

Williams said he expects to spend a maximum of two months looking for the treasure, with the aid of a 130-year-old map which Williams said was willed him by a sea captain.

In the treasure hunting group are engineers, sailors and businessmen. They pooled about $35,000 and equipment. Skipper of the Isola de Capri is Thomas Clairmont, 30, of Ravenna, Ohio.

UK Falls To Georgia Tech

By UNITED PRESS
Kentucky's chastened basketball team fell today somewhat like the man who got his finger in the electric fan, then stuck another one in trying to demonstrate how he did it the first time.

Certainly the Wildcats performance in losing to Georgia Tech, 66-50, at Atlanta last night was similar in many respects to the dismal showing that brought about Tech's great 99-58 upset at Lexington.

The big difference probably was that the first of the two upsets stemmed from over-confidence, while last night's resulted from over-pricing.

At least Tech coach, John "Whack" Hyder, thought so. He said Kentucky was trying too hard to make up for the earlier defeat.

Kentucky coach Adolph Rupp didn't agree, entirely, he said. "The boys should have been up for this one, instead, they were down a little."

Kentucky, trying desperately to catch up, went into a full-court press in the second half and Tech had trouble working the ball into the basket. Tech Tech called a time out.

"In the huddle, someone suggested we have Joe Helms fake to the baseline and break for the basket to take a pass," Hyder said. "We did that, and scored. After that, I think Kentucky relaxed the press a little."

Helms, with 24 points, topped all the scoring. Bob Burrows led Kentucky with 20.

Burrows played the game while suffering with a headache, but Rupp remarked afterward that he "played better than the ones who were well."

Hyder said he would like to play Kentucky four more times.

In other Kentucky college games last night, Transylvania went three overtimes to beat Rio Grande, 96-94, and Morehead edged Middle Tennessee 97-96.

Seven Foot Don Boldebuck To Play Here With U Of Houston

The Murray Thoroughbreds will be in the underdog's role when they clash with the Cougars of Houston university tonight in the Murray gym.

Whether or not Howie Crittenden will be able to play still remains doubtful but Murray officials are hoping that they Crittenden's running mate is moving up fast in the scoring totals. In the last three games, Kinder has collected 77 points.

Murray coach Rex Alexander isn't sure of tonight's starting lineup. Saturday night failed to produce a desire combination.

Thursday night the Racers will play the nationally ranked Dayton Flyers. The Dayton, five is currently ranked 15th in the national standings.

Tickets for the two games are on sale at the college business office, at Hunt's Sporting Goods Store in Mayfield, and Readmore's Newsstand in Paducah. Tickets will also be sold at the door on the nights of the games.

Coach Holland Wins Award

Coach Preston Holland of Murray, Kentucky, High School has been named an award winner and member of Bile Web Century Club for his record of 138 victories in football and 100 in basketball.

The honorary organization is open to any college or high school coach whose athletic teams have won 100 or more contests in any sport.

William Matthei, coach at Bayview High School, Milwaukee, received the first award. He qualified by coaching cross country teams that had won more than a total of 100 meets.

Matthei originally suggested the idea of the Century Club in a letter to Sports Trail, a monthly newsletter edited by Arch Ward, sports editor of the Chicago Tribune, and published by the Bk. Web Co.

It was Matthei's hope that perhaps some unknown coach who had done an outstanding job in school sports might get a justly deserved break from this type of recognition.

The Century Club Award, a framed certificate, is presented to any qualifying coach whose record is submitted to Sports Trail in care of Bile Web Co., 309 West Jackson Boulevard, Chicago 6, Ill.

Two Added To Faculty Of MHS

William F. Davis and Joe Hal Spann have been added to the faculty of Murray High School for the second semester of this school year.

Mr. Davis is a native of Clinton, Kentucky. He is a graduate of Murray State College of the class of 1948. He has a Master's Degree in Education and holds high school certificates in Missouri and Illinois as well as a certificate in school administration in this state. Mr. Davis taught four years in Estherville, Missouri public schools and was Superintendent of Elementary School at Mounds City, Illinois last year. He is a World War II veteran having served in the Pacific theatre from 1942-1944. Mr. Davis is married to the former Frances Davis of this county. They have one child and live on 15th Street.

Joe Hal Spann is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cross Spann, Jr. He is a graduate of Murray High School in the class of 1944. He is in this year's class of Murray State College where he majored in Physical Ed and Social Science. He too is a veteran having served in the Korean War.

Don Boldebuck Record Breaker

Leading point maker will be in condition to go for a limited time against the Texans.

Crittenden is recovering from a sprained toe that was reinjured last week during practice. The injured toe has been slow in responding to treatment and kept Crittenden out of the lineup in Saturday's game.

Saturday's 101-85 loss to Eastern dropped the Racers into a three way tie for first place with Eastern and Western in the OVC. The Thoroughbreds now hold a 4-2 record in conference competition, and a 7-10 overall record.

The Cougars have a very impressive 11-6 record for this season. Houston is averaging slightly better than 80 points per game. Statistically this gives the Cougars a three point advantage over Murray. The Racers are averaging 77 points a game.

The Texans are paced by 7 foot Don Boldebuck, who has a 25.1 average to his credit. Murray's high scorer is the titled Howie Crittenden who holds a 20 point average. Dick Kinder,

June Foy Bakes A Cherry Pie

Pretty June Foy, 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Foy of Murray, Ky., is the state's champion cherry pie baker. Here she meets and presents one of her prize-winning cherry pies to Mrs. Bernard A. Koten of Washington, D. C. Mrs. Koten was named grand champion of Pillsbury's 6th annual recipe and baking contest last December. June journeys to Chicago on Feb. 17 to compete for the title of "National Cherry Pie Champion" with 49 other contestants from every state in the Union, Hawaii and Alaska.

Louisville trip on January 10 was made at the invitation of General Electric Co., which furnishes all the electric ranges to five regional winners in the Cherry Pie Contest—and one to each of the 100 Pillsbury contestants.

Only Way To Meet Manpower Needs Says Defense Secretary

By PAUL SOUTHWICK
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON Feb. 1 (AP) — Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson urged Congress today to extend the draft for four years as the only way to meet manpower needs of the armed forces.

"Experience has shown that we cannot maintain on a voluntary basis the total number of military personnel that are required for the foreseeable future," he said in a statement presented to the House Armed Services Committee.

"As a result we must have the additional personnel on a short term basis."

The present draft law expires July 1. The administration has asked for a four-year extension.

The Armed Services Committee turned its attention to draft legislation airing publicly the Pentagon's backstage disagreement over the administration's proposed cuts in Army manpower. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, Army chief of staff, testified Monday that he feared the cuts would jeopardize U.S. security.

Agree Against Cut
Committee Democrats agreed with Ridgway that the Army should not be trimmed in the light of the Formosa crisis. But they were not in agreement on how, or whether, they could make President Eisenhower back down. Assistant Defense Secretary Carter L. Burgess, who presented Wilson's statement to the committee, said about 670,000 men would be drafted in the next four years, or an average of 148,000 a month. That would be in addition to 2,100,000 volunteers in the four-year period to maintain the scheduled force of 2,800,000 men.

Without a draft extension, the armed services could not maintain a strength of more than 1,500,000 men, Burgess told the committee. Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, selective service director, said about 2 million men have been drafted since 1950. He said the draft also spurred voluntary enlistments which would drop if it expires.

Chairman Carl Vinson, D-Ga., predicted speedy committee approval of the draft extension and said the bill will be ready for House action Monday.

May Affect Air Plans
Assistant Air Force Secretary David S. Smith said failure to extend the draft would curtail the Air Force's plan for 157 wings. He said the draft spurs longer term enlistments which are essential for training personnel in the Air Force buildup.

The Army at present is the only service taking draftees.

Recruiting Officers Busy Over Nation As Deadline Nears

By UNITED PRESS
Thousands of youth jammed recruiting offices over the nation Monday to sign up before expiration of midnight of many major provisions of the Korean GI Bill of Rights.

In a number of cities Army and Air Force, Navy or Marine Corps recruiting stations planned to stay open to 11 p.m. or midnight to accommodate all those trying to beat the deadline.

But it appeared that some enlistees would be doomed to disappointment in trying to qualify for GI benefits.

Recruit officers said a man must actually be sworn in to qualify, which may take anywhere from several hours to days after he applies for enlistment.

At Cleveland, the Army said it was unlikely that any man could come in after 9 p.m. and be processed through criminal record, mental, physical and other checks before midnight.

At the big Chicago station, however, officers said word of the deadline was spread to interested youths weeks ago and many of the checkups were complete before they arrived Monday for swearing in. They said only the "Joynny-cometelies" might fail to qualify.

Expiring at midnight were such benefits as farm and home loan guarantees and limited education benefits. After midnight such benefits as medical treatment, disability compensation, burial expenses and many others will be left.

In many cities recruiting stations reported that they were "swamped" with enlistments running as high as 50 per cent of more above normal for a Monday.

TWELVE DIE IN FLAMING TENAMENT

AMSTERDAM, N.Y. (AP) — Twelve persons—11 of them children ranging in age from six months to 14 years—were burned to death early today when a spectacular fire destroyed a 10-family tenement on this city's East Side.

Among the dead was a 14-year-old girl, Anne Mateka, who had fought her way out of the blazing tenement but returned to rescue her brothers and sisters and was trapped by the flames.

Ten of the 12 bodies, including a Puerto Rican father and five of his children, were removed from the building by noon. Police, firemen and volunteers searched for two others.

Dozens of other persons fled into a snowstorm and near-freezing weather.

The fire broke out shortly after 1 a.m. police said, from an exploding oil drum on the ground floor of the two-story brick and frame dwelling.

No damage was reported from the blaze other than smoke.

Miss Rowland To Be On Program

Miss Rachel Rowland will be on the program at the annual meeting of the state Home Demonstration Agents Association in Lexington today. She will give a report of the National Home Demonstration Council meeting which she attended in Washington, D. C. in November.

Miss Rowland also will report on the recognition luncheon for home demonstration agents receiving distinguished service awards held during the meeting of the National Home Demonstration Agents Association in Chicago last October.

Miss Rowland was one of two agents from Kentucky receiving the distinguished service award.

Surgery Said Safer Today

NEW YORK — Surgery is much safer now than it was only a relatively few years ago. The mortality, incidental to virtually all types of operations, even the most radical, has been materially reduced, according to statisticians, who base their report on a study of various hospital experiences.

Surgical mortality in recent years is compared with that about a decade or more earlier for various types of major operations, including surgery for benign and malignant conditions of the digestive tract, diabetic gangrene and certain female disorders. In every one of the experiences reviewed surgical mortality was reduced by at least one half, and in several instances by more than four fifths.
This record is all the more remarkable in view of the increase in the proportion of older patients

The improved outlook for patients with surgical conditions is strikingly illustrated by the rapid decline in the mortality from appendicitis, the death rate from appendicitis dropped by three fourths in the past decade and by nine tenths in the past two decades.

Doctor at the CROSSROADS

By ELIZABETH SEIFERT

SYNOPSIS
Fred Beier had come from St. Louis to the little town of Jennings, Missouri, where he served as a doctor. He was happy in his work, but at the end of three years, Katie, a young woman who had been his patient, came to him and told him that she was pregnant. Fred was shocked and told her to get an abortion. But Katie refused and told him that she was going to have the baby. Fred was angry and told her that he was going to leave town. But Katie told him that she was going to follow him. Fred was angry and told her that he was going to leave town. But Katie told him that she was going to follow him. Fred was angry and told her that he was going to leave town. But Katie told him that she was going to follow him.

CHAPTER NINE
THE KYLE place was the finest one in the valley. The most handsome, the most elegant, it stood on terrace above the street, its garden walled. Fred went through the door. Linda herself opened the door, and, unable to speak, clung to him, sobbing in terror.
He comforted her as he would a frightened child. His hand rested on her shoulder, his lips murmured soft words of encouragement. "Tell me," he said at last.
"I found him." She drew back, her eyes enormous in her face. "This evening—He had been drinking. Fred, this evening, he was—well—ugly.
He went up to his room, shut the door. You know the way he was. I thought of calling you.
I thought I had called you, Fred."
"I've said about all I can say to you about drinking, Linda."
"Yes. And that's what he was doing. I could smell it, and tell him the small sounds he made. He sat in his room, you know, and drank. Late in the evening he came out, and he was drunk.
He was so drunk that he was talking to me. He said, 'Fred, I am afraid my—Mr. Kyle—is very ill, Anna.'"
"I am sorry, madame," said Anna correctly. "She and Frank, of course, know of all the terrible times Linda had had with Theo.
They had been close at hand this past hour."
"This—this is different, Anna," said her mistress. "I think it may be a stroke."
When Fred came out into the hall, she met him at the landing.
Her eyes searched his face.
"It's bad, isn't it?" she said hoarsely.
"Yes. It is very bad, Linda. I'm sending for nurses," he told her.
"Two of them. Frank is to stay with Theo until they can get here.
That will be tomorrow. This looks if so, it would be dangerous to move him, even so far as my hospital, lie." He broke off to speak into the phone.
When he was finished, he took Linda by her arm. She looked distraught, and very tired. "I'm going to give you a sedative," he told her.
"May I stay downstairs?"
"But, why?"
"I don't think I could go up—not just now."
She looked at her keenly, but nodded and led her back to the small room where she had been sitting. He piled pillows into the corner of the damask couch there, made her lie down and administered the sedative. Then, having lit the fire, he sat in the wing chair and watched her. In the

Rainbow Girls Hold Open Installation Of New Officers

The Order of Rainbow for Girls Assembly held a public installation of officers at the Masonic Hall on Thursday evening, January 20.

An addendum honoring Miss Norma Fay Ragdale, retiring worthy advisor, was given by the members each carrying a bouton wrapped in the seven colors of the order. They formed a rainbow in the east and sang "Over The Rainbow" accompanied by Mrs. Dorothy Boone. A gift was presented to Miss Ragdale from the Assembly by Miss Terry Lee Tracy. A lane was formed from the east, leading to the door through which Miss Ragdale and Mrs. Frances Churchill, mother-advisor, retired, passed.

Mrs. Jean Weeks, chairman of the 1955 Advisory Board, requested the drill leader, Miss Loretta Tucker, to invite the installing officers into the assembly room who were Mrs. Churchill installing officer, Mrs. Clover Cutham, chaplain, Miss Beulah Ashbrook, marshal, Mrs. Dorothy Boone, organist and Mrs. Ruth Williams, recorder.

Those installed for the ensuing year were Misses Terry Lee Tracy, worthy advisor, Carolyn Williams, worthy associate advisor, Patsy Buchanan, charity, Mary Beth Patches, hope, Henrietta Warren, faith, Sharon Bond, recorder, Mary Jane Austin, treasurer, Loretta Tucker, chaplain, Barbara Mott, drill leader, Jeanette McNutt, love, Wylene Jones, religion, Betty Jo Crawford, nature, Nancy Roberts, immortality, Mary Florence Churchill, fidelity, Linda King, service, and Norma Fay Ragdale, outer observer.

The same officers installed the advisory board members who are Mesdames Jean Weeks, Velma Hendon, Ora Lee Farris, Adelle Wilson, Clover Cutham, Mildred Bell, Ruth Williams, Frances Churchill, Mildred Stalls, Mary George Williams, Barney Weeks, Buel Stalls, and Hubert Farris. During the social hour refreshments of punch and cookies were

Mrs. Patterson Is Hostess For Meet Of Concord Club

The New Concord Homemakers Club met in the home of Mrs. Taft Patterson on Friday, January 21, with the president, Mrs. Charles Stubblefield, presiding.

Mrs. Loman Bailey gave the devotion. Mrs. Stubblefield reported on the Advisory Council meeting and several items of business were discussed. She said the Purchase District is eligible to name a Master Farm Homemakers in 1955 and every club should name a candidate. Mrs. Stubblefield is the club delegate to the Farm and Home Week in Lexington.

A talk on the new social security law which includes farmers was given by Mrs. Leon Adams. Mrs. Sam McCutcheon gave the minor lesson on the care of house plants. Mrs. Portie Elkins lead the group in an interesting game.

Mrs. Charles Stubblefield, main lesson leader, gave the lesson on "Landscaping." She said your house is a picture; the trees and shrubs make the frame. Another item of landscaping is an outdoor living area in which trees and shrubs are a long way in developing. A low cost or no cost outdoor living area may be attractive, comfortable and private.

The hostess served a delectable party plate to the ten members and one visitor present.

served from a beautifully appointed table overlaid with lace cloth and centered with a black candle standing in front of seven stars in the colors of the order. Serving on the committee were Mrs. Ora Lee Farris, Mrs. Weeks, and Mrs. Williams.

Miss Billie Gingles Becomes Bride Of Mr. Gerald Haynes Banks On Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Haynes Banks

Miss Billie Reaylyn Gingles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hush Graves Gingles, Kirksey, and Mr. Gerald Haynes Banks, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Graydon Banks, Amory, Miss., were married Sunday afternoon, January 23 at two o'clock in the Church of Christ at Seventh and Poplar. Bro. W. D. Medaris read the single ring ceremony.

The bride wore a white satin gown with imported lace as the overdrape for the close-fitted bodice and the full skirt. The neckline was bateau-fashion and the long lace sleeves were finished in a point at the hands. An illusion bandage, edged in shirring and trimmed with lace, hid the veil which covered her face and extended to near her hemline of the dress. The head-dress and veil of illusion were the "Something Borrowed" from a friend. She carried a white Bible on which rested a white orchid tied with blisses of the valley and white satin streamers. A single string of pearls adorned her neck.

Mrs. Ralph Gingles, Murray, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. Miss Violet White, Terre Haute, Ind., was maid of honor. Mrs. Gingles wore a pink dress of net and lace over tulle and a coral velvet bolero.

Miss White wore a soft green dress made identical to that worn by Mrs. Gingles. Both attendants carried colonial bouquets made of pink and white carnations tied with matching net and ribbons. That matched the boleros and trimmings. Their hats were made of velvet that matched the boleros and trimmed with small pink and white flowers. Both wore matching lace mits.

Little Miss Carole Ann Gingles served as flower girl. She wore a gown fashioned in the same style and of the same material as that of the bride.

Master Johnny Gingles, the bride's nephew, was ring bearer. He wore a midnight blue suit and carried a white satin pillow.

Mrs. Gingles, the bride's mother, wore a spring blue crepe dress. Her accessories were in harmonizing colors and her hat was of pink beaver.

Mrs. Banks, the groom's mother, was attired in French blue and matching accessories in lighter shades of blue. Mrs. Gingles and Mrs. Banks wore pink carnations.

Mr. Frank Banks, Amory, Miss., served his bride's best man. Messrs. Roy and Ralph Gingles, brothers of the bride, and Mr. Donald Banks, brother of the bridegroom, Amory, Miss., and Mr.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Bondurant, Mrs. Harry Reeves and son, Buddy, of Paducah, and Mrs. Edmond Storie of Louisville were the recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Klapp.

Mrs. James Manning is undergoing treatment at the Murray Hospital.

Mrs. Tom Glass is improving at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Bazzell and Mrs. A. L. Bazzell visited Charlie T. Arnett who is recuperating from a recent operation at the Russellville hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Barnhill and children of Mayfield spent Sunday with relatives.

Larry Cardwell Hickman, were ushers.

The wedding vows were said before a background of palms and southern greenery. Baskets of white gladioli and candelabra with white candles completed the setting. The pews were marked with white satin bows.

Music selections given by Harding College Chorus were "Oh, Perfect Love," "O Promise Me," "I Walk Beside You," and "Through The Years."

Miss Charlotte Smith, Paducah, sang "Life Without Thee. Has No Charm" and "Because." The chorus sang for the recessional "The Lord Bless and Keep You" and "Father, Hear The Prayer We Offer." The bride, accompanied by her father, entered to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. White and pink carnations, gladioli and chrysanthemums were used throughout the house. The wedding table was covered with an imported linen. The centerpiece was made of white and pink carnations. The service was in crystal. White candles burned in silver holders. The five tiered cake was topped with a cluster of wedding bells.

Those assisting in the reception were Mesdames Guy Gingles, Fulton, and Hunter Gingles, Bowling Green, who presided at the entrance, Mrs. Harry Lee Potts and Mrs. Larry Cardwell, Hickman, ministered the guests. Mrs. Will Frank Stealy, Blue Mountain, Miss., served the cake and Mrs. Donald Daugherty, Vienna, Ill., presided at the punch bowl. Mesdames Rob Gingles, Charles Marine, Brooks Doores, Gene Potts and Z. B. Russell assisted in the hostess duties.

En route, the bride wore a spring wisp in deep purple with black accessories and her wedding orchid. They will spend their honeymoon in Florida and return to Amory, Miss., where Mr. Banks is in business with his father at the McCutchen-Banks Furniture Co.

Mrs. Banks is a graduate of Murray Training School, Murray State College and has studied in the University of Kentucky. She is a home economics major and has been employed by the University of Illinois in home advisor, working in Johnson County, Vienna, Ill. She taught in Newton, Ill. before her present assignment.

Mr. Banks was graduated from Mississippi State College and holds membership in Phi Kappa Phi, Phi Lambda Phi, Phi Eta Sigma, and Phi Kappa Phi. He served as First Lieutenant in the Air Force at Arnold Engineering Development Center at Tullahoma, Tenn.

PINK OR RED HEARTS

Looking for a couple of cute tricks for Valentine's Day? How about little individual heart-shaped cakes piled high with fluffy pink icing. There's a surprise beneath the frosting too.

Cupid's Surprise Cake

Bake your favorite white cake mix in a 13 by 9-inch pan (or use individual heart-shaped gelatin molds). When cool, remove from pan.

Place a heart-shaped pattern on the cake. Cut around pattern with a sharp knife, form six or seven valentine cakes. Place layer of sliced bananas (that's the surprise) on top of each cake. Frost top and sides with icing. Serve within a few hours.

Fluffy Pink Icing

1 cup sugar
4 tablespoons white corn syrup
4 tablespoons water
2 egg whites
Red coloring

Cook sugar, syrup and water together to soft ball stage (238° F.). Pour over beaten egg whites and beat until fluffy. Add two or three drops red coloring and beat to mix in color.

Red Heart Salad

Dissolve one package cherry gelatin in two cups hot water. Pour into eight-inch square dish or pan. Chill to set.

At serving time, section two oranges, saving the juice dripping. Slice two unpeeled red apples and sprinkle slices with orange juice. Arrange apple and orange sections alternately spoke-fashion on lettuce.

Dip gelatin dish in warm water and unmold on a flat surface. Cut gelatin with a heart-shaped cookie cutter. Place a red heart in the center of each wheel of fruit. Serve with salad dressing.

Yield: Four to six salads.

Happy Valentine's Day!

Burchett Home Is Scene Of Meeting Of Wadesboro Club

The home of Mrs. Clinton Burchett was the scene of the all day meeting of the Wadesboro Homemakers Club held Thursday, January 20.

Landscaping notes were read by the landscaping chairman, Mrs. Burchett. The main lesson on "Landscaping" was very ably given by Mrs. Herman Hanley.

The devotional reading from James 5 was by Mrs. Wayne Hardie followed by prayer by Mrs. Ocus Bedwell.

Announcements were made by the president, Mrs. Bedwell. A letter from the Murray Hospital thanking the club for the Christmas favors was read. The club voted to give a donation to the March of Dimes. Mrs. Gerald, the citizenship chairman, gave a talk on social security.

Plans were completed for sending a delegate to Farm and Home Week in Lexington. Miss Odell Colson will represent the club.

Present for the meeting were twenty members and three visitors, Mrs. O. L. Cain, Mrs. Gore, and Mrs. Connor.

The February meeting will be an all day meeting in the home of Mrs. Hanzel Ezell beginning at ten-thirty o'clock. All members are urged to be present and visitors are always welcome.

Policy Slip

ACTRESS Lynn Bari is shown in court in Los Angeles, where she charged former husband Sid Luft with failing to take out a court-ordered $10,000 educational endowment policy for their son Michael, 5. Luft, now married to Judy Garland, said he had been unable to afford the policy—$500 a year—and Judy "hadn't earned anything" during 1954. (International)
